

Things to make for Red and White Day

Here are some ideas your class could get involved with for Red and White Day. The pencil decoration could be adapted by using the colours Red and White and also be made into a badge instead of decorating your pencil?

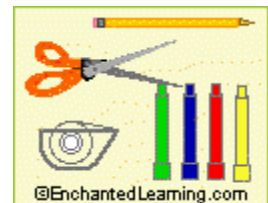

Pencil Decoration Flower Craft

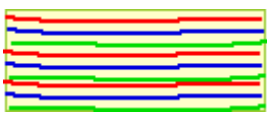

These flower pencil or pen decorations are made from paper. This is a great way to spruce up an old pencil.

Supplies needed:

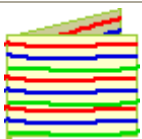

- Construction paper, gift wrap (2-sided is best), or any paper
- Scissors
- Tape
- A pencil
- Markers (red and white)

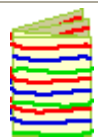

Cut a long strip of paper (about the size of half a piece of notebook paper).

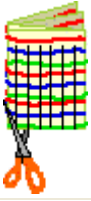

If the paper is plain, decorate it with red markings (on both sides).

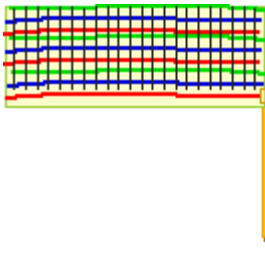

Fold the paper in half, and then in half again.

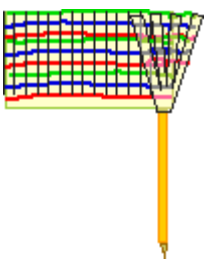

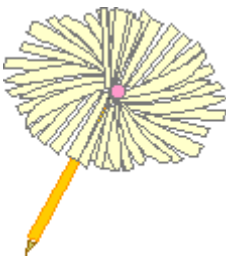

Cut a series of slits in the folded paper - do not cut all the way through to the ends, leave a small section uncut.

Unfold the paper. Tape one end of the uncut portion to the eraser end of the pencil.

Roll the paper around the pencil. When you've rolled it all, tape the end of the paper to the pencil.

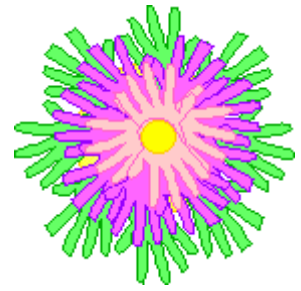

Gently push the pieces of paper away from the eraser, making it look like a flower.

You now have a cute, decorated pencil.

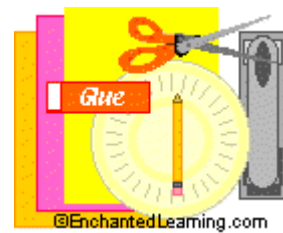

Paper Plate Flower Craft

This simple-to-make flower is made from a paper plate and a child's handprint cutouts.

Supplies needed:

- A paper plate
- Colourful construction paper (red & white)
- Scissors
- Glue (or a stapler)

Trace a child's hand on colourful construction paper, at least 10 times.

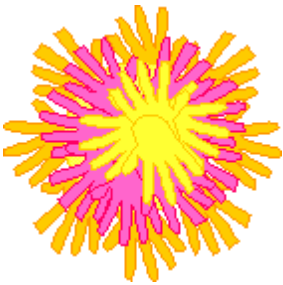

Cut out the hand tracings.

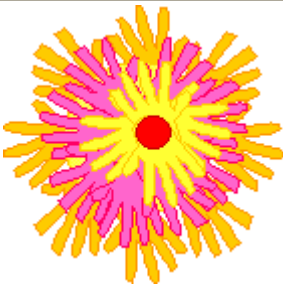

Glue or staple a circle of handprint tracings (fingers pointing outwards) around the outside of the plate - the fingers are the flower's petals.

Glue or staple a second circle of handprint tracings (fingers pointing outwards) just inside the first circle.

Glue or staple a third circle of handprint tracings at the centre of the plate.

Glue a small paper circle in the centre of the flower. You could put your name on it.
